Believe it or not we are half way through the season! Not long ago teams were being picked and now we have had the Steel Blades and are in the midst of the Ken Closs Christmas Jamboree.

Speaking of tournaments we are currently working on the schedule for the Extravaganza and are excited to say we have many out of town teams participating. There are 82 teams registered with 45 of them being from out of town. If your team has not yet registered please make sure you have it done by January 3rd.

January is a very busy time for out of town tournaments. Remember to have your travel permit in at least two weeks ahead of time. As many teams are away the league schedule may have to change, so please check your schedule to ensure you know of any changes. Also please share with us your successes so we can feature them on our website and Facebook.

As the new year comes we will be beginning to plan for next season shortly and are looking for any positive suggestions you may have to better improve the hockey experience. If you have any ideas we would like to hear them. You can email them to me at president@soopeeewee.ca

From a bad situation can bring education and change. When the coaching staff and players of the Community First Pee Wee house league team heard about a teen in Nova Scotia who had to endure racist remarks by players and fans from the opposing team, they decided that they wanted to bring awareness that unfortunately racism still exists and then vow to never tolerate it. On December 19th before their game against McDougall Energy, Chief Dean Sayers and Chief Andy Rickard shared their words of wisdom with the players before the game and the fans in attendance, Denny Lambert shared personal experiences of perseverance and never letting anyone make you feel anything less than important, Ted Nolan sent in a message that was read to everyone and a youth drumming group from Garden River performed. Youth can lead the world in change. The Pee Wee Hockey League enthusiastically supports the Red Tape Movement and would love to see all players tape their sticks red this season.
